SOLDIERS AND TARS

A Busy Day in Police Court.

WILCOX ON HIS METTLE

Helps out the Territorial Coffers by Fining Many of Those who Offended.

THE District Court looked like a ward on a hospital ship yesterday morning. Blood, blackeyes and court plaster were much in evidence. Soldiers and sailors were plentifully sprinkled throughout the courtroom and the crew of the stock transport Leelanaw attended the ceremony en masse. It was the busiest Friday on record.

Apikaila, a wahine, flattered forth to answer to a charge of drunkenness. "I'm afraid I've been too lenient with the ladies of late," said his honor, "and I think they are taking advantage of my clemency. The old Judge will let me go, seems to be their watchword. I've turned over a new leaf however and it's a three dollar fine at that." The lady in question paid just that sum in fine and costs.

Carlton admitted that he had been "under the influence." "You appear to have a reminiscence of the jag left," remarked the magistrate, as he allowed his gaze to amble over the defendant. Two dollars and costs was the beery one's contribution to the Territorial coffers.

Billy Crewes bobbed up again after a lengthy absence. The whirl of politics had evidently been too much for him.

"You have kept away from this court wondrous well of late," congratulated his honor, as he let the old reliable off with the minimum.

Fred Berger, a nice clean looking young fellow, smote one Emil Ney of illustrious ancestry in the eye and Mr. Ney brought his damaged optic into court wrapped in a handkerchief of chaste design.

When Mr. Ney is not dilating to the habits of the street corners, on his aristocratic pedigree, he passes his time pleasantly and profitably in posting bills. He was thus engaged on Thursday afternoon, and was standing on a very narrow sidewalk when Berger appeared on the scene. There was not room for two on the sidewalk at one time, so Berger asked the bill poster to allow him to pass. In response Emil spread himself a little more, Berger then asked Mr. Ney if he owned the sidewalk, and that individual proceeded to paste a large Republican poster on defendant's face. Berger explained that his face was not a bill-board, and then the descendant of the famous marshal swore at him, using a combination of words which generally means an instant declaration of hostilities.

Berger assumed the aggressive when the first epithet struck him and knocked Emil down in workmanlike fashion. Emil picked himself up and made for Berger, who remembering the old adage that "it's the first blow that counts," promptly knocked the mud-enraged Ney down a second time.

Judge Wilcox discharged Berger. He said that Ney was a man of experience and should have been aware that the words he had used to defendant meant fight.

The descendant of such an illustrious general really should have known better than to stick a paste brush in a gentleman's face, and then tender him an anathema instead of an apology," he concluded.

The judge called down Sanitary Inspector Pratt. The case was against Ah Leong, charged with keeping a lodging house without a license.

The attorney for the defendant asked for a continuance on the grounds that his place was not in a sanitary condition, and therefore a continuance of his old license had not been granted. A filing in was necessary before this could be secured. Defendant had himself undertaken the work, and a continuance was asked until it had been completed.

plexus blow at his friend, Dr. Pratt, that jarred the foundations of the court. It was delivered after this fashion:

"I continue this case till half-past nine tomorrow, and no later. Write it down in your book, Mr. Clerk. Dr. Pratt has had the effrontery to say to a reporter that he cannot get justice in this court. He knows what he says is untrue, and from this bench I brand his statements as false. If Dr. Pratt were here now I would tell him so in a word of three letters. The majority of the cases brought here by him have been nolle prossed, and he represents the prosecution for the Board of Health. Then he goes around with cold extremities and a long face."

The Leelanaw trouble was brought into court again. Larsen and Cattelini having had cross warrants for assault and battery issued.

"I thought this was all settled yesterday," said his honor. "You fellows evidently don't know when you have a good thing; if you want justice, however, you can get it. If you are not both dashed fools though, as the newspapers say, I am at a loss to define you. Yesterday I gave you both a chance to go to Manila on your boat, but you apparently want to continue your fight in this court. So be it."

Larsen was discharged and Cattelini committed for trial at the Circuit Court.

Maria Walmsley, charged with selling liquor without a license, was again reported as unable to appear in court, being ill in bed. A continuance was therefore asked and granted.

"Of course I will continue the case," said his honor, "but if the woman is bedridden I would like to know it."

W. Smith, the artilleryman who assaulted Officer Atatani, was committed for trial. Fox, another soldier, was fined $6 and costs for an assault on Paleonapa. The case against Fritz, also a soldier, charged with obstructing a policeman in the discharge of his duties, was nolle prossed. To him the magistrate said:

"Take my advice and leave policemen alone; they are good people to keep away from. If you leave booze alone you will leave policemen alone, as a natural consequence."

Frank Haskell was charged with purloining two bits worth of cigars from a Chinaman. He was committed for trial.

Thornton, Buck Levy, Aleka (w.), Warner, Keaweheulu, Coyne, Corcoran, all drunk, paid the usual fine.

A FAREWELL TO PROF. MAXWELL

Governor Dole Pays High Compliment to the Departing Scientist.

Governor Dole yesterday addressed a letter to Dr. Walter Maxwell who will leave the Islands soon for Washington expressing his regard for the well-known scientist and his regret that he has been called away to work elsewhere. Following is the letter in full:

October 26th, 1900.

Dr. Walter Maxwell,

Honolulu, H. I.

My Dear Sir:—In view of your prospective departure from Honolulu, I desire to express my appreciation of the scientific work you have accomplished in the Hawaiian Islands, as Director and Chief Chemist of the Hawaiian Experiment Station and Laboratories, under the auspices of the Sugar Planters' Association, and my sincere regret that your stay in this country is about to terminate.

Not only have your investigations been of the greatest importance to the sugar planters, but I am convinced that they have been of great value to other agricultural interests as well.

The contributions you have made from time to time to the questions of the formation and composition of Hawaiian soils, and to the principles of the fertilization of soils, irrigation, cultivation of crops, the effect of rainfall on soils, forestry and other kindred subjects have been of great and lasting public benefit to the Hawaiian Islands.

Permit me to thank you for the counsel and assistance which you have so often and so cheerfully rendered the Government in questions within your lines of professional work and also in other matters, especially the valuable assistance you have given as a Commissioner of Public Instruction, to the administration of the public schools. I wish you all success in your new and larger field.

Very sincerely yours,

SANFORD B. DOLE.

A LONG FELT WANT.

It is Supplied in Honolulu at Last.

It is hard always to be pleasant. Good-natured people are often irritable.

If you knew the reason you would not be surprised.

Ever have itching piles?

Not sick enough to go to bed nor well enough to be content.

Nothing will annoy you so.

The constant itching sensation.

Hard to bear, harder to get relief.

Keep your awake nights.

Spoils your temper—nearly drives you crazy.

Isn't relief and cure a long-felt want? It is to be had for everyone in Doan's Ointment.

Doan's Ointment never fails to cure itching piles.

Eczema or any itchininess of the skin.

Here is proof of it in the testimony of

Mr. Frank Leibly of 326 S. Main st., Wilkesbarre, Pa., who says: "It is with much pleasure that I testify to the merits of Doan's Ointment in curing of menting affliction for the past year. Itching piles. I suffered from that torrid nearly everything that was recommended to me and what I saw advertised, but I could get no relief. Finally I procured Doan's Ointment. After a few applications I was much relieved, and, continuing the treatment, I was soon completely cured. I have felt no signs of that intolerable itching since, and it is four months ago since I used Doan's Ointment. To say that I was delighted is only half expressing my enthusiasm. I recommend this remedy whenever the opportunity is presented. You may publish my statement at any time and I can always be found at 326 S. Main street, and will vouch for the same."
